I'm a senior mean stack developer with mobile (hybrid) application building skills. I've started my path with C++, but then I moved to another, more popular branch of development - web. Started with PHP and JavaScript, used frameworks like CodeIgniter, Laravel for PHP and jQuery, AngularJS for JavaScript. After a while I became a team lead in a small start up. Almost at that time I started working with NodeJS (express), Angular 4/5 and migrated to Ionic Framework 4 on mobile apps. Sometime later I dived into the world of serverless architectures. Worked with Firebase cloud functions and AWS Serverless.

I'm looking for an exciting experience from all projects I work on. My strong suits are finding/fixing bugs and project management including communication with the client. I'm well aware of TDD(Test Driven Development) and PPP(Pseudocode Programming Process). I speak fluently in English and Russian. Personally I prefer to work remotely and because of that, I'm a big fan of the Agile development practice.
